

SUMMER kids camps 2025

Bertie Ham's Chefs of Tomorrow

Grades 4-6

July 28-31, Mon-Thurs, 9am-12pm

COMED 6331-01

Location: Student Center, Room 103

Camp Instructor: Chef Jeff Fairbanks

Cost: $75

Each day is a new culinary adventure as campers learn the basics of cooking safely. Campers will learn how to cook lunch for themselves and maybe even surprise others with their cooking skills! Campers will be taking home samples of their creations. Bertie Ham was well known for her love and passion for education, cooking and children. Bertie Ham's Chefs of Tomorrow is being sponsored in Bertie's memory, by her family and friends. Each camper will receive some of Bertie's famous recipes.

Blastoff!

Grades 4-7

June 9-12, Mon-Thurs, 9:00am-12:00pm

COMED 6345-01

Location: Science Building, Room 115

Camp Instructor: Greg Hollmann

Cost: $75

Turn an ordinary summer into another adventure while attending this ultimate science camp. Participants will build, decorate, and launch their own model rockets that reach heights up to 1000 feet. In addition to building and launching the rockets, participants will view videos produced by NASA which highlight our explorations on other planets, discuss the possibility of life beyond Earth, and participate in activities that bring the solar system to scale. Don't miss this incredible opportunity to stimulate and educate young minds!

No homework, no paperwork—just tons of exciting science experiments and creative art projects using all kinds of cool materials! Get ready to mix, build, and design as we explore how science and art collide in unexpected ways. From colorful chemical reactions to hands-on projects that turn everyday junk into masterpieces, this camp will keep your imagination buzzing. If you think science is boring or hard to understand, we'll prove you wrong—and inspire your inner artist along the way.

Young Warriors Fitness Camp

Grades 5-6

June 9-12, Mon-Thurs, 9:00am-11:00am

COMED 6342-01

Location: RLC REC Center

Camp Instructor: Laura Johnston

Cost: $60

The Young Warriors Fitness Camp will show kids that being active is fun and empowering! This camp introduces an active lifestyle with a focus on building strength, agility, and overall fitness. Campers will participate in a variety of dynamic exercises, including obstacle courses, bodyweight workouts, and agility drills, all designed to improve coordination, endurance, and strength. They'll also learn about nutrition and healthy habits—all while having a blast! Please wear play clothes, sunscreen, and tennis shoes.

Outdoor Life

Grades 4-6

Date and time to be announced

Camp Instructor: U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

Cost: $75

If you like being outdoors, this is the camp for you! Join Park Rangers from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and participate in some basic outdoor skills. Each day will be filled with fun activities that will help you feel more comfortable during any outdoor adventures. Learn how to build a fire, master basic knots to build your own shelter, and more! Participants will spend most of the camp outdoors and should dress accordingly. Closed toed shoes are required. Water bottles and insect repellent are encouraged. On the last day, participants will celebrate their new skills with a meal cooked over the fire!

SUPERVISED LUNCH

RLC staff will collect your camper at the end of their morning camp, supervise their lunch, and drop them off at their afternoon camp.

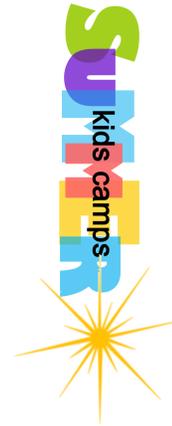

Campers need to bring a sack lunch, snacks, and beverage each day.
